Marking Policy

Learn Together, Achieve Together
Summer 2024

Marking is an important part of the learning journey for each child. Much assessment is based on the marking of written work and on information received by the day-to-day interventions with children such as observation, by asking questions, through discussion and sometimes through tests.

In our school we mark work to:

- Acknowledge and celebrate achievements
- Inform children of ways in which they can improve
- Motivate children
- Monitor progress and raise standards
- Remind children of teacher expectations.

It is an expectation – particularly for Maths and English – that marking is kept up-to-date.

Literacy

What our books look like

Each book in 1 - 6 to consist of:

- Copy of marking symbols relevant to the key stage – stuck on the first page
- Assessment grids to be stuck in the back of children's books and updated regularly using yellow highlighting to show evidence. These grids will be looked at in termly moderation meetings.
